The Consortium Meets in Amman!

On 14–15 October 2026, Jordan Youth Innovation Forum hosted the final transnational partner meeting in Amman, bringing together IKIGAI, AB iED, Envolve Entrepreneurship, Jovesolides Egypt and JYIF to review the project's final results, finalise the Guidelines and Sustainability Model, and prepare the closing events of YouthLivingLabs.

Policy Forum: Bringing Labs to Your Region

On 29 October 2026, Instituto IKIGAI hosts the project's digital Policy Forum. Using co-design methods, stakeholders and youth organisations explore the Youth Living Lab concept and how they can create one in their own country or region.

Final Conference: Building the Future of Youth Employment!

On 21 October 2026, the consortium held its online Final Conference, where all five partners shared the results of two years of Youth Living Labs. The event was also live-streamed on the partners' platforms to reach an even wider audience.

Every partner took the stage:

Instituto IKIGAI
The Living Labs Journey

AB iED
Core results, Academy & Open Innovation Space

Jovesolides Egypt
Impact & voices from five countries

Envolve
YLL Guide launch & Policy Dialogue

JYIF
Organisation, Q&A & closing

The YLL Guide Is Launched!

Envolve launched the Youth Living Labs Guide, a public guide for municipalities, youth NGOs, employment services, hubs and universities that want to set up their own lab, built on five pillars: lab set-up, youth recruitment, mentoring, business challenges and sustainability.

Policy Dialogue

Juan Viesca (Finnova Foundation) and Antigoni Komodiki (Junior Achievement Cyprus) discussed how policy can help small companies host young people and keep proven models alive after funding ends.

"Talent is universal, but opportunity is not."

Antigoni Komodiki

Thank You for Being Part of the Journey!

After two years, five countries and 150 young people, the Youth Living Labs model is ready for others to use. Read the Guide, adapt it to your context, and connect with our partners to start your own lab!
